The Convention at Fall River. FALL RIVER, Mass, May 27 At to-day a session of the Foresters it was voted manimously to hold the next convention in Lowell.

According to the statistics presented by the High Chiel Secretary, 4,428 persons a have joined the order alone the Lowell convent on last year. Much interest centeres in the selection of delegates to the Brookly High Court Convention. Eight delegates were elected from Lowell to serve last year but the convention was not called and it is proposed by some to allow these eight to serve this year and two more from the convention.

The visitors were taxen down the river to day for a sail and were banquetted at Crescent Park, R. 1.

The farmer goes on selling his corn and wheat and potatoes for better prices than he has got for years, and buys his staple dry goods and sugar and other groceries as up, and even cheaper, than before. I nder such conditions lying is more than usually unprofitable.

A. R. Whitney & Co., of New York, the agents of the largest iron manufacturers of Pennsylvania, state that everything in which they deal is lower than it was before the McKinley tariff was enacted. And the Messrs. Whitney deal in almost every variety of iron ad_n steet manufactured goods. The free trade liars will please make a note of this fact.

Ex-Mayor Cregier has grown pessimistic No. 3 Eichange Block, State Siret, Bargor, Me. since he failed of re-election in Chicago. He says that nothing has yet been done toward erecting the buildings for the World's Fair, and that it is impossible to get them ready by the date set for the opening of the Exposition. In his opinion a postponement of the opening for several months will be necessary. His statements have met with a prompt and sweeping denial from the Fair officials.

Nobody was robbed and everybody was more scared than burt in the shooting affair on the Maine Central railroad at Burkeld, Monday night, but it was a crimeior an outrageous sort, nevertheless.—Leafis.

With four or five ruffians shooting solid chanks of lead into a train it is hardly to be expected that the trainment should regard the affair as a picuic. It is much more comfortable to consider such matters at a distance of a hundred or two miles powerful and handsome machine, in perfeet order. rontains the following easy tariff lesson:
"How is business with you?"
"Steadily Improving," replied Mr. Andrew Snow, treaguter of the Mt. Washington glass works, of New Bedford. "We are beginning to feel the favorable effect of the raise in the duties on glassware in the new tariff. Pressed glass was advanced 20 per cent, and cut and decorated glass 15 per cent, ad valorem."
"What are the works making now?"
"Chiefly rich, heavy cut glass and decorated glass and decorated glass and decorated glass."

Well, we want the tariff cover continued. We are protectionists here. We are psying better prices than are given abroad for the same work. But in home competition we can hold our own and gain steadily, I believe. New Bedford is very taverably situated in point of climate and convenience for the liner class of glass making and working.

A Washington despatch says: "The tatement is made unofficially that Lord Sa!isbury, within two days, through the British Minister, has made a suggestion to the President as to the close season in Behring Sea. But this report cannot at NEW YORK, MAINE & N. B. S.S. CO. the present time be authenticated. It is certain that no communication has been received at the State Department in writ. Pler 48, East River, New York, for Bangor, every ing from the British Foreign Office. The report is that the British Minister, howver, has communicated to the President the information that Lord Salisbury appreciates the importance of the Subject. and desires it to be understood that he is not seeking needless delay. He has heartated, however, because of the strong opposition which has developed all ow British North America to a close season. The protests, it is said, have come to London not only from the people of British Columbia but from those of Canada. Lord Saliabury is greatly embarrassed by the opposition in Canada, which it is said he does not wish to affront, although h would like to reach an amicable agree. The Connecticut Mateal Life lus. Co. ment for a close season. For that reason he sent the British Minister to the Presidest to make his position clear and jo show that he is not intentionally delaying action, but that he is studying the question with a view to a solution. The President and the Cabinet, however, are isclined to be of the opinion that there is no time for any longer consideration of the subject, and that a final decision must be reachest at once. Congressmen L. C. Hook, whose sudden death was announced in THE WHIG's telegraphic columns, was born on June 3, 1836, in Sevier county, Tennessee. Three months in a country school was the limit of his training before he set to work to educate himself. He was apprenticed to a cabinet maker, and after working all day devoted his evenings to study. Finally he read law in this way, and was admitted to the bar in 1859. His previous struggles and his kindly manners soon gained for him a considerable practice. But when the sight war broke out he dropped every thing and enlisted in the first Tennessee regiment that was mustered into the Union service. At first a private soldier be was soon promoted to a lieutenancy. On Feb. ruary 2, 1862, he received a cocolonel of the 3d Tennessee Infantry, and served until April, 1863, when he resigned, broken in health. He then turned his attention to journalism for a year. He was a delegate to the Loyal East Tennesses Convention, and to the conrentien which met in 1865 to reorganize the State and amend its constitution. 1966 as was elected judge of the 'XVIIth Judical District of Tennesses, and after Southern Claims Commission. His more intimate commercial with National polition began in 1996, when his was a delegant to be applied a Commission of Chicago, when his was a delegant to be applied to the state of t

MAINE MELANGE. Many Interesting Oilppings In the News, Notes and Gossip Cathered from Many Sources.

At a largely attended meeting of the inhabitants of the town of Freeport, the town unanimously voted to contract with E. B. Mailet, Jr., his associates and assigns, to furnish a supply of water for fire and municipal purposes, Mr. Mailet agreeing to put if W hydrants, and four drinking fountains for horses and public used. The town is to pay $1,000 a year rental for twenty pears, with the provise that the town may have the right to purchase the same after ten years, at a value to be appraised by three disinterested persons. The meeting was very harmonious. The work will begin as soud as possible, and it is hoped to have it completed by December. The matter of building houses and two large boarding houses was discussed, and a letter from A. Cushing, Esq., was read, showing the need of these houses to accommodate his workmen.
